

Dear Parents:

The upcoming year will be an exciting and fun one for the Junior High students at St. Thomas Aquinas School. As well as academic endeavors, students will be involved in many other activities, which will promote growth, maturity and self-esteem.

Our school is very fortunate due to the fact that it does have smaller classes. This enables teachers to individualize instruction and allows them to spend more time getting to know your child's strengths, talents and areas that might be improved. Our strong religion program, which is stressed throughout the curriculum areas, helps to build sound moral values and allows students an opportunity to fall back on prayer and faith when problems do arise in their lives.

This year, your child will have quite a few teachers in their different subject areas. Should you have questions, the homeroom teachers are listed at the bottom.
